EMPLOYER NOTICE

OPERS Announces 2026 IRS Compensation and Contribution Limits

WHO SHOULD READ THIS NOTICE

Finance directors, human resources and payroll professionals

SITUATION OVERVIEW

Each year, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) establishes specific compensation limits

The compensation limit (threshold established by IRC section 401(a)(17)) is the amount beyond which no further retirement contributions may be deducted from an employee's earnable salary for a given year. This limit applies to all OPERS members, regardless of their retirement plan enrollment. The 2026 compensation limits are:

- $360,000 (increased from $350,000) for employees or elected officials establishing OPERS membership on or after Jan. 1, 1994.
- $535,000 (increased from $520,000) for employees or elected officials establishing OPERS membership prior to Jan. 1, 1994. This limit is applied regardless of whether there has been a break in service or an account refund for previous service.

OPERS monitors reported earnable salary and contributions and will contact you if any of your employees are nearing IRS limits. Employers should monitor records of each employee's reported earnable salary but should not stop deducting and remitting contributions unless notified by OPERS.

WHY THIS IS IMPORTANT

Although these limits may affect only a small number of your employees, monitoring IRS limits is important because any retirement contributions deducted and remitted in excess of the limits will result in a refund and a delay to your employees in receiving part of their salary. If an employee contribution is sent in error, OPERS will initiate the refund process.
