OPERS Supports Business in Ohio

Investment activity by the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System touches businesses here in the Buckeye State in many ways. For instance, since 2010 OPERS has committed more than $2.4 billion to Ohio investments or Ohio-based money managers. Meanwhile, Ohio-qualified managers not headquartered here oversee more than $6.4

billion in OPERS assets. In addition, $35 billion in OPERS funds are managed by our in-house staff, headquartered in Columbus.

Here is an updated look at our varied relationships with Ohio-related companies:

The funds are managed by Pernal Capital Management of Boston, which is a “fund of funds.” When OPERS makes contributions to Pernal, the firm finds other funds in which to invest, and it’s those entities that supply capital to individual companies.

The latest fund, Pernal Ohio Midwest Partners, was established in 2011. The three funds, which include co-investments, have pumped more than $1 billion in Ohio-based companies, which today employ 5,391 people.

Public markets

Public markets account for a large percentage of the OPERS investment portfolio. Much of those investments are managed by outside firms, some of which are located in Ohio.

As of May 31, Ohio-headquartered companies manage $883.9 million in OPERS equities. Portfolio amounts range from $577 million managed by Fort Washington Investment Advisors of Cincinnati, to $20.7 million overseen by Elessar Capital of Cleveland, a small firm that’s in our Emerging Manager Program.

Further, OPERS works with several Ohio-qualified managers, which maintain a significant presence in Ohio. These entities manage more than $6.3 billion in OPERS assets, led by BlackRock Financial, which oversees more than $3.1 billion in defined benefit and defined contribution assets.

Private equity

Among our local initiatives are the Ohio-Midwest Funds, $200 million worth of financial commitments by OPERS that help companies grow and prosper.

This investment is classified as private equity, or equity investments in companies that are not traded on public exchanges. We initiated the first of three Ohio Midwest Funds in 2005 as a way to invest in the region. To date, we have contributed $108.9 million of a total commitment of $200 million to these funds.

OPERS is not required to provide health care coverage to retirees or their dependents and will only do so at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

Finally, our holdings include about $538 million in Ohio-based company stock. As of Dec. 31, 2012, these investments were topped by more than $209 million we owned in Procter & Gamble Co. shares. You can see the top 10 list of Ohio holdings on page 108 of our 2012 Comprehensive Annual Financial Report, available at www.opers.org.

Real estate

OPERS works with several Ohio-involved real estate managers, and we have made many direct investments in real estate projects across the state. As of June 30, we've committed $889.1 million to eight Ohio-related real estate investment firms. They include $475 million to Chicago-based manager Heitman to fund development projects in Ohio, and $175 million to Fillmore Capital Partners, which invests in Ohio-related projects.

Also, OPERS has committed $542 million in direct funding toward Ohio-focused projects, including apartments in New Albany, a built-to-suit warehouse in Marion for Whirlpool and hotel acquisition through Rockbridge Hospitality of Columbus.

Miscellaneous

- In the year ended June 30, 2012, OPERS paid $4.6 million in commissions to Ohio-qualified brokers.
- OPERS paid $19.6 million in fees to Ohio-qualified managers in the year ended June 30, 2012.

Condensed plans of payment became effective Sept. 1, 2013

The new condensed plans of payment went in to effect Sept. 1, 2013. Members with effective retirement dates of Sept. 1, 2013 and after will receive their retirement benefits under one of the new plans of payment. OPERS will no longer accept outdated forms listing the former plans of payment, so if you are planning to apply for retirement please be sure the retirement application you submit is current and lists the new, condensed plans of payment.

New plans that went into effect Sept. 1, 2013:

- Single Life Plan (replaced Plan B)
- Joint Life Plan (replaced Plans A, C, D)
- Multiple Life Plan (replaced Plan F)

Be aware of pension scams

Large sums of cash being offered in exchange for pensions in scam

An independent securities regulator is telling retirees to beware of companies offering lump sums of cash in exchange for pensions.

The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) recently issued an alert that these “factoring companies” typically target recipients of structured settlements but have begun to turn their attention to pensioners. It says that the offers can be much less than the total of the payments that retirees will receive during their lifetime.

It says that some retirees might be tempted to opt for cash up front and trade in all or part of their pensions to cover health expenses, mortgage payments or other big bills.

“In a typical transaction, the recipient of a pension or structured settlement will sign over the rights to some or all of his or her monthly payments to a factoring company in return for a lump-sum amount,” FINRA states. “And the lump-sum amount that factoring companies offer will almost always be significantly lower than the present value of that future income stream.”

OPERS already offers members a partial lump sum option payment, in which they can receive a portion of their retirement benefit in cash in exchange for lower monthly benefit payments.

Ohio retirement law prohibits the assignment of Ohio pensions. Ohio Revised Code Section 145.56 states that OPERS pensions “shall be unassignable” except in certain cases. The exceptions do not include factoring companies, which sometimes accumulate multiple income streams and package them as an investment. Therefore, OPERS can issue pensions only to its members, not to third parties such as factoring companies.

FINRA states that federal pension holders are typical targets of deferred payment purchasers. We contacted two such companies, Pennsylvania-based J.G. Wentworth and Arkansas-based Buy-My-Annuity.com, and each said that they currently are not purchasing state or local pensions, in part because of regulations.

However, as FINRA points out, that may not stop rogue salespeople from contacting our members. An industry website for factoring companies says in response to the question of unassignability: “Judges have the power to approve the sale, even if there is language ... that attempts to prevent you from selling your payments.”

While OPERS cannot issue pensions directly to factoring companies, there is no prohibition against the retiree selling their pension once they have received it from OPERS.

FINRA also said that investors who may be looking to buy into structured settlements should be wary because this type of investment offers little safety, and risks to individual investors are substantial.

To read the full alert issued by FINRA, visit their website, www.finra.org.

National Save for Retirement Week - Oct. 20-26

Are you prepared to meet your retirement goals? OPERS encourages you to take time during National Save for Retirement Week, Oct. 20-26, to evaluate your plans for income during retirement. You should also consider the rising cost of health care and begin saving for your retiree health care costs while you are still working.

National Save for Retirement Week is the first congressionally endorsed, national event formally calling on employees to learn about and take full advantage of their employer-sponsored retirement savings programs.

One of the key activities Ohio Deferred Compensation will be offering is a series of helpful educational opportunities for those planning to retire. These hour-long sessions, which you can access either by the Internet or over the phone, will stress the importance of building up your own nest egg to complement your pension.

Approaching Retirement, Oct. 22 and Oct. 24

This webinar will provide basic information for employees who are nearing retirement such as asset allocation, risk tolerance and withdrawal options from their deferred comp account.

Beyond the Basics, Oct. 23 and Oct. 25

This webinar is for those who want more detailed 457 plan information such as withdrawal strategies.

Retired Minds Want to Know, Oct. 29 and Oct. 31

This is a webinar to help participants simplify their planning, understand fund access and guard against various risks.

Providing balanced information

The last time you visited www.opers.org, you may have noticed the home page has a new look. The new design brings a more balanced look to the home page, as the focus of the home page shifts from the major issue of pension legislation to providing more information about upcoming health care changes and other important topics.

Previous information about pension and health care changes is still available on opers.org but the information is presented in a more streamlined way.

The new design also features a box in the middle of the page used to rotate news, such as health care open enrollment and other important topics.

Another important change is the member login boxes at the top were removed in favor of buttons. The button will take you to a landing page to log into your account.

Visit www.opers.org and take a moment to check out the new home page.

Your online account - take these actions to stay up-to-date

Next time you visit opers.org, be sure to log in to your online account and take the following actions:

Register for an online account if you have not done so.

Update your password to meet the new requirements.

Review your personal information to make sure OPERS has your current address, phone number and e-mail address. Also, review your current beneficiary designations.

Select your correspondence preference. Because of the recent updates to the online account system, all correspondence preferences were reset to "mail." If you would like to receive electronic correspondence from OPERS, you will need to make that selection.

Explore some of the new features available to you through your online account. To learn more about these features, visit our blog PERSpective at <http://perspective.opers.org>.

Health Care update

Rule changes in 2014 could effect your eligibility for health care coverage

If you are considering retirement, there are some rule changes effective Jan. 1, 2014 that could affect your eligibility for OPERS health care coverage.

Qualifying service credit: For members retiring on or after Jan. 1, 2014, only the following types of service credit will apply toward health care eligibility and allowance - contributing service, Ohio Retirement System transfers, interrupted military service (USERRA), unreported time and restored (refunded) service.

The OPERS website, www.opers.org, features a Service Credit and Health Care Coverage chart. This chart provides a complete list of the types of service credit which will and will not apply to health care eligibility beginning in 2014.

Minimum earnings: Health care credit will be granted for months in which at least $1,000 is earned. Partial health care credit will not be granted for months in which less than $1,000 is earned. Credit earned prior to January 2014 will not be affected by this change.

Disability recipients: Members first receiving a disability benefit on or after Jan. 1, 2014 will have coverage during the first five years of receiving disability benefits. After five years, a recipient must meet minimum age and service health care requirements or be enrolled in Medicare due to a disability to remain enrolled in the OPERS health care plan. If enrolled, allowance will be determined in the same way as an age and service retiree.

Members receiving a disability benefit prior to Jan. 1, 2014 will have continued access to health care coverage based on the annual review and approval of their disabled status and will not be subject to the five-year rule described below. Allowance will be determined in the same way as an age and service retiree. If a recipient does not meet minimum age and service requirements, the minimum allowance will be used.

Voluntary withdrawal: On or after Jan. 1, 2014, OPERS health care plan participants who voluntarily elect to withdraw from the plan cannot re-enroll unless certain circumstances are met. This rule does not apply to dependents or retirees who return to public employment and are required to enroll in the employer's health care plan.

Additional changes effective Jan. 1, 2015

New eligibility rules: The new program will require members to have at least 20 years of qualifying service and be at least 60 years old to qualify for health care or have 30 years of qualifying service at any age.

This means that eligible members have approximately one year to decide whether or not to retire under the current eligibility rule of 10 years of service. Members must not be on their employers' payroll later than Nov. 30, 2014, in order to qualify for OPERS retiree health care with 10 years of service.

Allowance reduction: The new health care plan will base the allowance given to participants for their monthly premiums on age and service. There will be a three-year transition for participants to the new allowance tables. All health plan participants will be receiving new allowances by 2018. Depending on your retirement effective date, you and any covered dependents will transition to new allowances between 2015 and 2018.

If you would like additional information, please go online to www.opers.org to access the Health Care Planning Tool or call 1-800-222-7377 to schedule an appointment with an OPERS member counselor either in-person in Columbus or over the phone. You can also schedule an in-person appointment through your online account.

We realize the changes to the retiree health care plan may prompt some members to consider or even re-evaluate their retirement plans. OPERS will introduce some new resources and tools to help members plan for the most ideal time frame for retirement.

Please continue to read your newsletters and visit our website for more information later this year.
